

I am aware that you are still set on stripping internet services from their Title II status despite widespread complaints of these actions. I urge you not to do this, I fear that people in STEM careers will lose a great amount of opportunity. If the internet's function as an open forum of communication is damaged my fellow graduates and I will have less chances of finding fulfilling and sustaining jobs.

Sincerely,

Alonso Sanchez